THE GROSTS OF ALGERISM.

Some months ago when regiments of volunteers from Minnesota, Wisconsiv, Maine and other states in the extreme north, were ordered to rendezvous on the Gulf of Mexico, very many newspapers and public men pointed out the dangers to which the troops were unnecessarily exposed. It was the order of the War Department, however, that the troops from the extreme north should be concentrated in the extreme south, that political debts incurred in the Presidential campaign might be paid to certain transportation companies. The consequence is, that though the political obligations have been cancelled, regiments like the First Maine volunteers, who were sent to Obicamaugs, early in the sammer in the full vigor of manhood, left there last week, that is those of them who did not die of climatic fevers, in aspitiable a condition as the Red Cross people found the resoncentrades.

When the press directed attention to the fact that our troops were dying by hundreds of disease, starvation and neglect, and that the War Department was responsible for this end condition of affairs, the gold men attempted to exonerate Secretary Alger from all blame, though it was well known that he was conducting the war on a partien basis. Now that the sufferings of the troops has become a subject of general comment, the demand that Alger's methods be investigated is almost unanimous, only a few mossback Republicans, who profess to believe that the Administration is infallible, are interposing objections. The Philadelphia Press, which has heretofore been shielding Alger, says an investigation is inevitable. The Ledger says the President cannot afford to deny the demand for an investigation. The New York Mail & Express says that Alger's interview in defense of himself is Advertiser says that if Alger is not investigated the Republican party will suffer for it, which is true. The Brook- reau display. lyn Eagle says the whole War Departputrefying sores. The Baltimore are "ghosts of Algerism." These papers quoted are respectable Republican journals. the war is the disposition to be made of the Philippines. The concensus of opinion seems to be that the American the United States from the State of flag should be kept waving over every foot of territory won from Spain by the valor of our army and navy. It is feared by many that the Administration will relinquish the Philippine Islands to Spain, and in fact many prominent men are predicting that that will be the result of the Paris conference.

States should not hold the Philippines diately. Depend upon it mothers there is as well as Porte Rico. Though the quest the United States would not be justified in turning the islands over to Spain, if the inhabitants are opposed to Spanish rule and prefer independence or annexation to the United States. If this Government does not want to annex the Philippines, and the natives are opposed to being again subjected to Spanish domination, they should be permitted to establish an independent government, under the protection of the United States.

WHEAT AND HILVER.

Last year the silver standard countries were buyers and not sellers of wheat, hence the connection between the price of silver bullion and wheat was severed for the time being and no relation between the two existed, says the Silver Knight. "But this year Rusela has a large surplus to sell and India and the Argentine Republic have a surplus and the price of silver bullion will again fix the price of the American wheat crop, because our surplus must be sold in the markets of the world, in competition with the surplus from silver-using countries."

Temperature of week ending 8 A. M. September 19th will average below normal along a line drawn from New York City to Kansas City and above normal all around that section. For the same week rainfall will be below normal in the Eastern States and in the great central valleys -except Texas. In Texas and the Rocky mountain countries rainfall will be from about to sbove normal.

The cool wave that will cross the continent from the 10th to the 12th may bring light frosts in the northern latitudes of the United States. Heavier but not severe frosts may be expected in northern states from the 20th to 24th.

 Score another great victory for these weather bulletins. It was predicted, a month before, that the week ending 8 A. M. August 22d would be the hottest week in August in the northern states of the great central valleys and that the two weeks before would be unusually cool. Millions of people have noted, with interest, the full verifications of these two important forecasts.

The Weather bureau officials are to bold a two day's convention at Omaha and material in the trade, on Thursday and Friday, October 20th and 21st, in the Board of Trade building. I expect to attend the Exposition during that week and will be pleased to meet, at that time, any of the friends of my work.

The Weather bureau has an office on the Exposition grounds at Omaha at which are displayed methods of their work. All visitors to the Exposition, who are interested in weather matters, should pay a visit to the Weather bu-
